

OCHR NEWS

DON Civilian Recognized at Annual Disability Awards Ceremony

David, DeMauro, 2014 Department of Defense Navy Disability Award Winner.

Department of the Navy (DON) civilian David DeMauro will be honored at the 34th Annual Outstanding Department of Defense Employees and Service Members with Disabilities Awards Ceremony at the Pentagon Auditorium 30 October 2014 as part of its observance of National Disability Employment Awareness Month.

DeMauro works for Naval Air Systems Command (NAVAIR) as a senior electronics engineer in the integrated battle space simulation and test department in Patuxent River, MD. During his 11 years on the job, he has established a reputation at NAVAIR for his technical expertise in engineering and his "can-do" attitude. In addition to his position as a mission environment live-virtual-constructive architect and lead radar engineer, DeMauro has voluntarily been NAVAIR's leading disabled veteran and Wounded Warrior recruiter. During the past seven years, he has represented NAVAIR at more than 60 Wounded Warrior and Individuals with Targeted Disabilities recruitment events. He has also worked as the NAVAIR summer hire coordinator from 2007 - 2013.

The Outstanding DoD Employees and Service Members with Disabilities Award honors the accomplishments and abilities of employees and service members with disabilities who have made significant contributions to their organization's mission and best demonstrate the core values of their respective components.

DON civilian employees tackle real world challenges while serving the nation and America's warfighters. Visit www.donhr.navy.mil for information on civilian careers – Where Purpose and Patriotism Unite.